

Please don't come to our masterclass on 15 October if any of these are true.

An honest filter from someone who used to sell software.

Richard Lawrence

1

Your platform bill is small and flat.

If it hasn't moved in a year, you have better things to do on a Thursday.

Come back when it starts climbing.

2

Every cluster has an owner tag
and auto-termination.

And every job has a timeout. Those are the first fixes we'd suggest anyway.

You've done the hard part.

3

You already know your cost per job.

A 90-day baseline, every job with an owner, and failed runs costed on their own line.

You're ahead of most teams we meet.

4

You're hoping for a product demo.

It's 30 minutes of framework and 15 minutes of your questions. We only mention BigHammer.ai in the last minute.

Book a demo instead. We won't mind.

Still here? Then it's for you.

1

Data leaders whose platform bill keeps climbing

2

Platform owners with a renewal coming up

3

FinOps teams asked to explain the spend

4

Engineering managers planning a move to EMR or Dataproc
